
SANFORD MEDICAL CENTER SIOUX FALLS SCHOOL OF RADIOLOGIC TECHNOLOGY TUITION AND FEES

The school of Radiologic Technology reserves the right to adjust tuition and fees presented in this document.

First Year:

Tuition $2,500

Student Activity Fee $250

Second Year:

Tuition $2,500

Student Activity Fee $250

- $250 non-refundable acceptance fee: Paid at the time of acceptance into the program and applied to the first year Student Activity Fee.
- The Student Activity Fee is used for ASRT annual dues, SDSRT annual dues, SDSRT Conference fees, etc.
- Books, BLS, and developmental tests are provided without charge.
- The cost of uniforms, housing, meals, and transportation are the responsibility of the student.

Tuition/Expenses and Refund Policy are identical for ALL resident and non-resident students, including veterans and military members.

Refunds

When a student withdraws, two separate calculations must be determined:

1. Refund of Tuition
2. Return of Title IV funds

Tuition refunds will be made only after the School of Radiologic Technology has been officially notified in writing, of withdrawal from the program. The withdrawal notice must be submitted to the Program Director. The date the withdrawal notice is received will be regarded as the student's last day of attendance. Failure to make proper notification (unofficial withdrawal) renders the student ineligible for a tuition refund.

First week: 80% of tuition

Second week: 60% of tuition

Third week: 40% of tuition

Fourth week: 20% of tuition

NO REFUNDS will be given for withdrawals after the fourth week

NOTE: No refund will be given for tuition holding fee, books, vaccinations, or student activity fees.

Faculty

Student to faculty ratio: 4/1

Transfer of Credits

Transfer credits are not accepted or do not take the place of any course in the 24 month program. The School of Radiologic Technology is NOT a degree granting institution; therefore credits from other institutions cannot be accepted to shorten the length of our program.

Part-Time and Transfer Students

There are no provisions for part-time or transfer students.

Distance Education Courses

There are no provisions for distance education courses.

Financial Aid Eligibility

The School of Radiologic Technology provides financial assistance to qualified students through federally funded loan and grant programs. No students should be denied an opportunity to attend the school of their choice because of limited resources.

The responsibility for financing education beyond high school rests upon the student. The federal government has provided financial aid programs which are intended to supplement resources.

Sanford Medical Center School of Radiologic Technology participates in the Federal Pell Grant Program, Federal Stafford Loan Program subsidized and unsubsidized, and Federal PLUS.

Financial aid may also be available through the State Grant Program, Veterans Benefits Administration, South Dakota National Guard, Vocational Rehabilitation and Bureau of Indian Affairs. Information on any of these sources of funds may be obtained from the individual agency.

Students in the Radiologic Technology program may be eligible for additional scholarships. Scholarship information will be provided to students during the 24-month program.

For students who ARE NOT eligible for financial aid through an affiliated college/university:

1. Southeast Technical Institute processes all of the radiology's financial aid. Information and forms may be obtained from Lynette Grabowska at Southeast Technical Institute. Call (605) 367-6122 or email us.
2. Complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as soon as possible after you are accepted into the Sanford Radiologic Technology Program, and include the Sanford school code (011477).
3. After filing the FAFSA, you will receive a report called a Student Aid Report (SAR). Respond quickly to any requests for additional information.
4. You will receive an award letter; your financial aid package is unique to you.
5. You must sign and return one copy of the award letter as soon as possible after receiving the award letter to secure the aid being offered to you.

For students who ARE eligible for financial aid through an affiliated college/university:

Contact your college advisor and financial aid office at the college/university in which you are enrolled as soon as possible after you are accepted into the Sanford Radiologic Technology Program.
